Description

This 1982 Brewer 43 Pilothouse, a true offshore cruising yacht design, is now available for sale.

The family of Brewer yachts has proven itself as a true offshore cruising design.

This flush deck design offers easy access to the foredeck, and with the pilothouse she has increased living space below.

The canoe stern design not only provides great safety in a following sea, but also prevents hull slap at the stern when at anchor at the dock.

The layout between port and starboard is well balanced with heads and berths on each side of the vessel. This makes for ideal comfort on either tack.

Fuel and water storage is unmatched in similiar size boats - great for that long voyage.

The vessel had a major refit in 2002 and has been well maintained since.
